2020 Annual Report - Internal Affairs

The Cottage Grove Police Department had no internal affairs investigations in 2020.

The police department has received no formal requests for an internal affairs investigation from employees, citizens, or any other sources during the year. Officers, supervisors and administrative staff field complaints sporadically concerning the department, its officers, or how we operate. The staff makes sure the complaints actually occurred in our jurisdiction, it involved our officers, attempt to explain why we took the actions we did, and generally make sure we can explain procedures to those contacting us. With a proper explanation up front, none of the people expressing concerns wanted to make a formal complaint, that would involve taking a formal statement from the complainant, an investigation and reporting back to the complainant after the investigation was complete.
