Background (related experiences, skills or qualifications): Senior Marketing Representative with Madison Gas and Electric Company. Key Account Manager for Large to Medium sized Commercial and Industrial Customers. Currently enrolled in the University of Wisconsin Sustainable Management program. I have participated in many different types of energy saving projects. I have a great deal of experience when it comes to utility rates and verifying claimed energy savings from the third-party contracts you may work with in the future. I have gained the understanding that sustainability is not just about environmental benefits. Sustainability can have big business benefits too and, most importantly, reduce future risks.

Why you are interested in this committee(s): If there is one thing I have learned from working with Green Teams it is this: momentum is key driver to change with sustainability. Because of its complexity, the word itself “sustainability” can seem intimidating and overwhelming. Changing behavior is an incredibly difficult thing to do and it takes a collection of dedicated, patient men and women to achieve whatever that next step in the process.
